

Claim Amendments

Please cancel claims 13-19 and add new claims 20-22 as follows:

13-19. (cancelled).

20. (new) A method for female cystocele repair comprising the steps of:

securing a sling material between the descending rami of the pubic bone by use of at least one bone anchor located in the pubic bone and locating said sling material below the posterior bladder wall, wherein said step of securing said sling material by use of at least one of said bone anchors located in the pubic bone further comprises the steps of:

threading each of said anchors with suture, loading an anchor to be placed at a ligament, onto an inserter device, palpating a ligament with a finger to locate a desired location for said anchor to be placed at a ligament, advancing said inserter device, with said anchor to be placed at a ligament, along the finger until a tip of said anchor to be placed at a ligament perforates said ligament, deploying said anchor to be placed at a ligament from said inserter device into said ligament so that said anchor to be placed at a ligament firmly attaches to the ligament, and removing said inserter device.

21. (new) A method for female cystocele repair as claimed in claim 20 wherein said inserter device is used pervaginally.

22. (new) A method for female cystocele repair according to claim 20, wherein said sling material is synthetic material, autologous or cadaveric fascia.